

Windows Into History

Work is due to start this month on the installation of the two new stained glass windows in the clock tower. For the first time we have the opportunity to show you photographs of the windows as you will see them when work is complete – a beautiful new feature in the heart of the village.

A Methodist Minister's View

This year marks the 200th year of the founding of the Royal National Lifeboat Institution: the RNLI. I was interested to learn that 4th March was the anniversary of the founding meeting of the organisation in London. The idea evolved from the practical thinking of Sir William Hillary, from the Isle of Man, who was concerned about the number of shipwrecks. He organised a meeting of people who were sympathetic to his idea, which was chaired by the Archbishop of Canterbury. Sir William was a member of the Quakers faith group.

I expect many of you have been watching the BBC TV programme 'Call the Midwife', which features the work of an organisation working alongside the National Health Service in the East End of London. It serves as an example – based on memoirs – of how many of our caring and other services were developed, with some then becoming mainstream government or local government services. Our hospitals, schools and libraries are examples of this. Often, the initiating groups were drawn from members of local churches. Some of the caring organisations that have developed in response to need in recent times have the same root, such as St Petroc's here in Cornwall working with and for the homeless, and our local foodbanks.

At the present time, many of our caring and welfare services are experiencing difficulties because of a lack of adequate funding from our government, and through them into local government. Many people will benefit financially from the reduction in National Insurance contributions in the recent budget, while many are suffering because of the lack of funding and its consequences. These things should concern us and cause us to do what we can to bring about a change.

As I was thinking in these terms, a chorus from a 20th-century hymn written by Graham Kendrick came to mind. The hymn is 'Beauty for brokenness' and has the chorus:

God of the poor
Friend of the weak
Give us compassion we pray.
Melt our cold hearts,
Let tears fall like rain,
Come, change our love
From a spark to a flame.

These words can form the basis of a prayer for all of us – for ourselves and others, from which action could follow.

Every blessing,
Bryan Ede

Clock Tower Update

Works should now be under way for the refurbishment of our beloved Clock Tower (see front cover). We are giving almost every inch of the tower some TLC so it can not only withstand our lovely weather but also remain a key feature of our village for years to come. Obviously, this will cause some pressure on parking around the Square, but the Parish Council hopes that the benefit of the works far outweigh any immediate issues.

Now our attention is turning to how we can celebrate the completion of the works and the unveiling of the new windows!

Village Green Entrance

The Parish Council has become increasingly concerned over the state of the walls in the entrance to the Village Green opposite the school. The Council has now contracted a local stonemason to repair both sides of the entrance.

Village Green Improvements

The Parish Council has submitted an application to the Cornwall Council Levelling Up Fund to hopefully receive some monies to help it improve the amenities in the Village Green. The Parish Council is specifically keen to ensure that the green is as inclusive as possible, and would like to receive ideas from everyone who uses the green. This could be anything from enhancements to the entrance gates, widening the paths for parents with pushchairs or the introduction of new play equipment for children with mobility issues.

Please send your ideas to clerk@stteathparishcouncil.gov.uk

St Teath doing what St Teath does best

After hearing on the radio that Cornwall Air Ambulance needed a second helicopter, Sue Hughes and Tracy Kitto had the idea of a St Teath fundraising event. So, on Saturday 24th February, a coffee morning was held in the Church Hall to raise funds for this vital service.

With lots of friends and family helping out on the day, it was a great success. It was really well supported; people came from far and wide and the fantastic sum of £1500 was raised!

Thanks to everyone who came to the coffee morning and special thanks to everyone who baked cakes and very generously gave raffle prizes. We could not have done this without you all.

County Council

One of the main reasons I wanted to get into local politics was to drive forward the green agenda and get meaningful action on both climate change and nature recovery. In 2019, it was my motion to Council which resulted in Cornwall Council formally declaring a climate emergency, and, more recently, I supported a motion to recognise that we are living through an ecological emergency.

I am pleased to say that both areas are being taken very seriously by the Council, with substantial progress towards decarbonisation of Council operations (well ahead of government targets) and with a team on the Council now taking the formal lead on Cornwall's Local Nature Recovery Strategy, a statutory outcome of the government's flagship Environment Act.

Notwithstanding this, it needs to be placed in the context that Cornwall Council only has direct control over 1% of Cornwall's emissions and can only influence around 40% more. The rest are in the hands of other businesses, organisations and residents.

We regularly get questions at Full Council and committee meetings from members of the public who are concerned that the action we are taking is insufficient to meet the challenge, and one of the key requests of many environmental groups is that we convene a citizen's assembly to drive forward change.

Over the past few months, a development group has set the foundations of a new Cornwall & Isles of Scilly Climate Commission, and I am pleased to report that a call for Commissioners has just been launched. Its role will be to challenge, catalyse and convene the region's leaders, organisations and communities to take effective action.

The first step now is to source a highly diverse range of people, with a wide range of skill sets, experience, geography, ages and backgrounds, to bring their unique perspectives to being Cornwall and the Isles of Scilly's first Climate Commissioners. Are you keen to see increased and more joined-up conversations and action in Cornwall and the Isles of Scilly in response to the climate and ecological emergencies? Could you bring your unique perspective and skills to making it happen? Could you be one of the first Climate Commissioners for Cornwall and the Isles of Scilly?

Applications are now open, with a deadline of Monday 8 April, and details on how to apply can be found at the Commission's website www.cornwallandiosclimate.org.uk

St Teath Community Gardeners

An Apple Tree for Darren

We had a very special day in February when the St Teath Community Gardeners planted an apple tree in memory of our friend Darren Milner. The tree was planted up at the Allotments where Darren loved spending time (pictured left). The Allotments were much improved by Darren's hard work: he was not only a great gardener, but also improved the entire plot with his skill and hard work on the drainage. Our thanks to Sam, Lin and the family and also the Allotment Committee for their help. A plaque will be put in place in the next few weeks.

Great Idea for Green Fingers

Tania and the team have had an idea from someone (thanks Trish!) about having a plant swap-and-share hut somewhere in the village. There has already been lots of positive feedback, so possibly by the time you read this, one will be in place where we can pop our extra plants or seedlings for others to use.

Tania

Cartoon Corner

Thank you to Jonathan of the Rubbish Ramblers for our new cartoon series!

St Teath Rubbish Ramblers

February's picks can be summed up in one word – wet. A new favourite littering place appears to be the top end of Treroosel Road. So sad and unnecessary.

The team meets informally every first and third Thursday of the month at 10 am by the White Hart pub. Dates coming are 4th and 18th April. New helpers are always welcome. Please dress visibly, wear gloves and bring a bin bag. Routes range from short and flat to the longer, hilly ones. Coffee and chat afterwards.

Jonathan

Sorry Sam!

In last month's issue, Sam Burton's surname was misspelt as Burden in the Community Centre article. Sam tells us that's the third time he has been so renamed in Timepiece. Apologies Sam, we'll strive to get it right in future! (The compiler owes you a pint.)

Tintagel Orpheus Male Voice Choir

Our new season is well under way, and we are rehearsing for future events, which are listed below.

Sadly, we were unable to participate in the Wadebridge Music Festival this year, as were Loveny Male Voice Choir (MVC). This meant Wadebridge MVC had a clear run, and won the cup automatically.

This year is the biennial year of the International Male Voice Choir Festival, and we will be involved in a concert with Wadebridge MVC and three choirs from abroad. This concert will be at St Petroc's Church, Egloshayle, on Thursday 2nd May at 7pm.

On Saturday 18th May, we have a Cornish themed concert at Camelford Hall in aid of Hospice South West and Tintagel Orpheus Male Voice Choir, including a pasty and cream tea. Bring your own alcoholic beverages. Tickets from John Sadler (01840 212583).

The Bristol University Madrigal Ensemble are on tour again this year, and we have a joint concert with them at Tintagel Methodist Church on Sunday 16th June at 7pm.

The dates for our usual series of Thursday Summer Concerts are as follows:

18th July, 1st August, 15th August, 29th August and 12th September. These are all at Tintagel Social Hall, starting at 8pm.

We look forward to seeing you at some of these events.

For further information contact Bob Metters on 01840 213736, or John Sadler on 01840 212583.

Please support your local Male Voice Choir.

CGS Spring Flower Show

The best Cornish gardening show of the year is just around the corner! An interactive Grow Your Own space for all the family and Tipi talks by horticultural experts are just some of the vibrant new features that will enhance the dazzling displays of fabulous flora at our 2024 Spring Flower Show.

Advance tickets £10, children free entry.

Why not come as a group and hire the Community Bus? Groups of 6 or more cost £9 per person and can pay in advance by invoice — saving 25% of the gate price on the day.

Please contact Carol Blewett on 07792 278778 or showcoaches@cornwallgardensociety.org.uk

Crocus Sunday

Even though the sun didn't shine on the crocuses (or the croci), the annual St Teath Church Crocus Sunday was another delightful event to cheer a damp February. The afternoon was very well attended, with a fair few of the audience making the short trip from their delicious Sunday lunch at The White Hart to enjoy some postprandial music and cakes (Andy, Anne and cakes pictured). And, as always, our thanks are due to all the 'St Teath Ladies Who Bake' for their skill and generosity.

The Church choir was on top form singing a range of lovely songs, ably accompanied by the Breakfast Band. If you missed them this time, you can always enjoy their music on every fourth Sunday of the month at Breakfast Church: no cakes, but Anne will make you a bacon butty.

To round the afternoon entertainment off, Stubby's Jazz band delighted us all with some real toe-tappers, finishing with a belting rendition of 'When the Saints'. Thank you Gareth, Yvonne, Barbara and all the musicians and singers for a lovely, cheerful afternoon on such a grey day.

St Teath Super Singers!

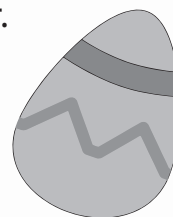

Many congratulations to St Teath Church Choir, who won a cup in the Small Choir category of the Wadebridge Festival in March. Their renditions of 'On Eagle's Wings' and 'Spirit of God' earned them some very positive and encouraging comments from the judge, including praise for their 'sense of devotion'.

Of course, any choir is only as good as its M.D., so a huge thanks to Gareth for all his hard work and patience. Thanks also to the Breakfast Band who played along with the choir for two numbers, which were much enjoyed by the audience. This year Wadebridge, next year....who knows?

Wishing all my family and friends a very Happy Easter.
Thank you to all those who have sent cards and visited me in Hatchmoor Nursing Home.

Phyllis x

We wish you a very Happy Easter too, Phyllis. With love from all of us. x

Rev. Nicki's Note

Dear Friends

Thank you so much for the warm welcome we have received from the churches and communities here, with many cheerful smiles and friendly conversations. As I enter into a new season in my life and ministry, I am reminded of the changing seasons, both in nature and in the church year. With the clocks moving forward at the end of March, we can now enjoy lighter evenings.

This year, at the end of March, the wonderful festival of Easter is celebrated in church, which culminates in the resurrection of Jesus Christ. This was a new season, both for Christ himself, and his disciples. In the period that follows the discovery that Jesus's body was no longer in the tomb, along with the message "He is not here, He has Risen," he appeared to his disciples and several hundred other people.

Each time Jesus appeared there was a profound effect on those who met with him.

- As he walked with two of his disciples on the road to Emmaus, their hearts were excited by his words and all he had to say.
- Thomas was sceptical and did not believe until he saw him with the wounds in his hands, feet and side and then declared "My Lord and my God."
- Jesus shared breakfast on the beach, after having guided his disciples to throw their nets to the other side of the boat where they caught a great catch of fish.
- Peter, who had previously denied knowing Jesus, was restored into a new relationship with Jesus, and Jesus then entrusted Peter to build His church by caring for, teaching and loving people.

So as we enter into this season following Easter Day, how do we respond to the news of the resurrection? Are we like Thomas, doubtful and uncertain and need to explore faith a little more to begin to understand? Are we like the disciples who were fishing, weary and tired, and need God's guidance and wisdom to discover the best plans and decisions for our lives? Or are we like Peter, in need of restoration in our relationship with Jesus and to be assured of God's love for us?

The Easter story is an act of love that can move people from despair and hopelessness to one of hope and transformation. We each have our own life story and we can often feel confused and bewildered at the complexities of life. Whatever season we find ourselves in, we can be assured that God is with us, ready to guide us, restore us and to love us unconditionally into a new season of life.

Just as the season of Spring sees new life bursting forth in nature, I pray that the resurrection hope of Easter will bring a season of hope, love and life to you as we remember the words of Jesus:

"I came that they may have life and have it abundantly."

May you have a blessed April.

The Licensing of Revd. Nicki Farr

There have been many licensings at St Teath Church over the years, but the service for the Reverend Nicola Farr may have beaten all records. Churchgoers from her new 'home', the Camel-Allen Benefice, were joined by members of her family and many friends from the Launceston area where she has been assistant curate to the Launceston parish churches and the churches in the Moorland and Egloskerry group. They were also joined by friends from the Callington cluster of churches, where Revd. Nicki worshipped for many years and where she was an ordinand.

The church was packed to the proverbial rafters as Revd. Nicki was licensed to become Rector and Pioneer Priest by the Right Reverend Hugh Nelson, Bishop of St. Germans and the Venerable Kelly Betteridge, Archdeacon of Bodmin, with visiting members of clergy in support.

Her new benefice includes not only St Teath but also Advent, Camelford, Delabole and Lanteglos, and wardens and members of the congregations of all five churches, as well as the St Teath Church Choir, welcomed Revd. Nicki to their 'family' at the service, followed by a get-together and buffet in the Church Hall.

Mother of four daughters and a music teacher (she loves playing the clarinet), Revd. Nicki and her husband, Andrew, look forward to getting to know the area, but old friends from Launceston and Callington are not forgotten. They have promised to come to services at her new churches.

We welcome the Revd. Nicki and hope she will be happy and enjoy working with us. She will be out and about in the village, especially in the cafe! If you see her, please say hello. She is looking forward to meeting you.

A special thank you to Claire, Sue, Jeffrey and Geraldine for all they have done over the past 15 months. They have worked tirelessly to make sure church services continue but also that full support has been given to those who needed help and comfort. Thank you, too, to Gareth who is not only a church warden but is also choirmaster and organist, and to his fellow warden, Dave Winter. All have worked so hard behind the scenes to ensure that our parish church has continued to run smoothly.
