A Clean Sweep by the Community Gardeners

Huge thanks to all who helped to clear the Square of leaves in November ready for Remembrance Sunday (pictured; except for Mike and Jim).

Thank you to all my helpers (especially Rob and Clare) for all the support this year and for keeping on top of things while I've had to be elsewhere. Hopefully we will be back to a bit of normality in the New Year.

I'd like to wish you all a very Merry Christmas and Happy New Year!
See you in the Spring!

News from St Teath Primary and Preschool

St Teath Preschool

The children in Maple and Cherry class have been thoroughly enjoying all things Christmas recently. We've been very creative and had fun with various Christmas crafts, like making our own baubles, Christmas cards and glittery snowflakes. We've talked lots about Christmas: what it looks like in our family and how we all celebrate differently, and we have been learning about all the different kinds of traditions people enjoy. We even had a toilet-paper snowball fight! We learnt a few Christmas songs to sing together for our own version of a Nativity sing-song, and the children will be enjoying a final week of fancy dress, party games and some yummy party food too! When we return in January, we will be talking about our New Year experiences and looking at how New Year is celebrated around the world.

St Teath Primary School

We have returned from the half-term break ready for the build up to Christmas performances and other festive activities. We had an amazing cake sale with an array of beautifully designed Halloween cakes. We were really lucky to have famous 'baking' judges (pictured below left) come to give prizes on the day! Sycamore class enjoyed a musical workshop from Endelienta, who spent the morning working with the children on different performance techniques (pictured right). Oak class have been creating animated films based on Wallace and Gromit. They have designed the sets, written the scripts and made the characters from clay (pictured below right). Willow class have been creating artist clay models based on the style of Miro, and Elm class have learnt about

Bonfire Night, its history and compared London with St Teath. They have also explored water fireworks and even created their own indoor display dance with scarves!

We have lots of exciting events planned:

Monday 9th December - KS1 Nativity 1.30pm/KS2 Nativity 5.30pm

Tuesday 10th December - KS1 Nativity 5.30pm/KS2 Nativity 1.30pm

Wednesday 11th December - KS1 Nativity 1.30pm/KS2 Nativity 5.30pm

Monday 16th December - Christmas Community choir concert 10:30am - St Teath Village Hall

Tuesday 17th December - Whole school church service - St Teath church - families welcome

St Teath Man Shed

Despite still only having our original three members, the Man Shed has been busy. Our first task was to help the St Teath Gardeners brighten up our village by producing two planters that are now in place in Trehannick Road and by our school. Three planters were also produced for the school quiet space.

Summer was quiet, but help was given to the Arts Fest in August, which helped raise additional funds for the group. Part of this was spent constructing three rather fine nesting boxes for barn owls (pictured right) which are now in place in Treburgett. This project was run by Gary Methereell, who did most of the work. This has raised a lot of interest and hopefully more will be constructed in the new year.

We have almost finished refurbishing and painting metal flower holders for the church and are cutting out and painting various items for a wonderful Christmas scene being created by the Village Lights team in the bus shelter. Meanwhile, other requests include one to construct a reading shed for the school as part of a quiet outside reading area.

We would welcome with open arms anyone else who is interested in joining us. Everything we do is for other groups or individuals, and it is enjoyable. Don't just say I'm too busy, it's not all that time consuming and it will give you great satisfaction. // Bob Fox

The Clock Tower on
Remembrance Sunday 2024

St Teath AFC

We want to extend a massive thank you to our lovely spectators for your unwavering support this season! It's truly heartwarming to see so many familiar and new faces cheering us on every Saturday and Sunday. Whether it's for our men's or youth teams, your presence makes every match day special. Your energy and enthusiasm on the sidelines bring our community closer together, and we are immensely grateful for that.

We've been incredibly fortunate with the weather this season, and Remembrance Sunday was no exception. Under clear skies, all of our teams took a moment to pay their respects (pictured below). With the church bells softly ringing in the distance, it was a poignant and beautiful day of football. It was a touching reminder of the spirit of unity and remembrance that brings our community together both on and off the field.

For a fantastic event that we're sure you'll love, mark your calendars for Saturday 7th December! Join us for a festive evening of Family Christmas Bingo. Eyes down at 7:30 pm – bring the family along for a chance to win some great prizes and enjoy the holiday spirit.

We're also excited to announce that our new fencing is now up and ready for sponsorship boards! This is a fantastic opportunity for local businesses to gain visibility among our loyal spectators, both home and away, each week. For just £100 a season, your business can be showcased prominently around our pitch. For more details on how to get involved, please visit our website at www.stteathfc.com.

Finally, are you passionate about football but not interested in playing? We are always on the lookout for volunteers to join our team as linesmen and lineswomen for both our men's and youth matches. It's a great way to be part of the action and support our club from the sidelines. If you're interested in volunteering or want to learn more, please reach out to any member of the committee or email us via our website. Thank you once again for your continued support. We look forward to seeing you at our upcoming matches and events!

St Teath's Club Scene

As many of us are aware, there are many varied clubs in St Teath. If you are new, feeling a bit blue or looking for something different, there is always something interesting to do in the village.

Yoga with Fran

On Tuesday morning, the Hall is full of St Teathians perfecting their half monkey in Francesca Gilpin's yoga class. Fran lives in Delabole and trained in vinyasa yoga in India in 2017. Vinyasa involves moving from one pose to the next in a flowing sequence that's coordinated with the breath. The 9.15–10.15 class is suitable for all ages and all abilities. The 10.15–11.15 chair yoga class is for anyone wanting to improve their mobility, posture and balance: all the exercises involve sitting down or holding on to a chair (pictured top right).

Classes cost £10 per session (or five classes for £45 if booked in advance). Both groups have proved very popular with ladies and gentlemen: the sessions are friendly and welcoming, and all Fran's students have improved their balance and strength. So, if you think you might be ready to try a warrior one (pictured right), pop along to the Hall on a Tuesday morning.

St Teath Art Club

The Art Club meets in the Community Centre on Wednesday afternoons. The artists bring their own work and materials to enjoy each other's company and some refreshments while working on varied projects (pictured below). You might have seen their work exhibited in the Hall during Arts Fest: look out for their stunning Church window display over Christmas. The club is very popular, but if you are interested in joining, contact Bob Fox – fox314@btinternet.com

The club also takes trips to local galleries and invites artists to teach the members new skills. Recently, they went to St Ives to visit the Tate Modern and the Barbara Hepworth Museum. The highlight of the Tate was the display of textile pictures by Mirga Tas, a Roma artist. The Tate Modern is a bit like Marmite – some love it and others do not. It certainly contains a wide range of paintings, photographs, sculptures and ceramics. Several people walked into St Ives and visited a number of other art galleries and craft fairs; some enjoyed a walk on the beach.

It was cloudy but dry and warm enough to sit on the promenade for lunch and a spot of sketching. Look out for paintings of Porthmeor Beach at our next exhibition. Thank you to Sandra for organising the trip and to Simon for driving the minibus.

St Teath Allotment Association Soup Kitchen

The Allotment Association hold an annual Soup Kitchen in the Community Centre to raise funds that enable the committee to keep improving the allotment site. This year, the soup kitchen attracted a large number of people who enjoyed our wholesome soups, cakes and of course a raffle with some excellent prizes. The fact that the café was closed might have helped as well!

For £3, you could choose from Curried Parsnip, Leek and Potato, Spicy Bean or Carrot and Coriander soup with a roll! Value for money indeed.

For those who wanted dessert, we had a choice of seven cakes (some of which are pictured below being sampled by some familiar faces) and buns with a cup of tea or coffee: lunch for £5. The committee made enough soup for 80+ people, and at the end of the afternoon only a few portions of soup were left... and no cakes.

Thank you to the committee for the planning and hard work, especially to Lyn Gale who sourced in excess of 30 prizes for the raffle; made enough soup for 40+ people; waited front of house and even made special dietary soup for some people who requested it the week before.

But the biggest thank you has to go to the lovely people of this village who turned up and supported us to the tune of £414.89. This will help pay for the access improvement as well as a second water butt on site – which will be a great help to all plot holders. We hope to do it again next year.

When do the Christmas Lights Come Down?

A reminder that the Village Lights will be taken down on Saturday 11th January. If you usually park in the Square, please put this date in your diary. We would be very grateful if you could move your cars during the day time on that weekend.

Thank you!

Reverend Jeffrey Writes...

I wonder whether you will be reading this in Advent as we again look forward to Christmas?

When we are children, I rather doubt that Advent makes much impact upon us other than the excitement of the daily opening of the Advent calendar and the discovery of the little treasures lying behind each unopened door. As parents of young children we are likely to be too focused on preparing for the coming festivities to find much time for reflection on the meaning of the season. And what are we to make of it when we have become 'empty nesters'? Is the season then tinged with a little sadness? And what if you are single and lonely, or one of those for whom Christmas is always touched with sadness because it reminds you of a lost loved one or some other past trauma? Are you looking forward to enjoying Yuletide, or perhaps dreading a rather sadder Christmas than those happier ones of the past?

If Christmas is a sad time for you, do consider attending Rev. Geraldine's Blue Christmas service at St Thomas's in Camelford at 7pm on 5th December for comfort and, perhaps, a little healing.

But, whatever your situation, do find time to reflect on what Advent is really all about. Advent is a time of preparing ourselves for the coming of Christ at Christmas and is a mixed time of both penitence and joyful expectation. Penitence is appropriate: Jesus began his preaching by asking us to repent because the kingdom of God had come near. The kingdom is near if we approach Christmas in the right way, looking forward in expectation not only to the first coming of Jesus as a human baby two millennia ago, but also to His promised second coming when He returns to reconcile the whole of creation to Himself.

Seeking forgiveness for our failings in Advent is appropriate, but focusing overmuch on this can make Advent seem a time of darkness. That is not by any means the whole story, because Christmas is a time of joy and the other side of Advent is looking forward in joyful expectation of this.

15th December is Gaudate Sunday, named from the Latin for 'rejoice'. Pope Francis calls this the Sunday of Joy, when instead of fretting about "all they still haven't" done to prepare for Christmas, people should "think of all the good things life has given you".

Remember this if you are still panicking about getting ready for Christmas on 15th December or if you are, for some reason, feeling dark and blue; and allow yourself to experience the light and joy of the good news that the Christchild brings this, and every, Christmas.

A Letter From Your MP

Hello again, St Teath. Between constituency surgeries, visits to community centres and local businesses, and scrutinising the Government's budget announcement, I've had a busy few weeks.

I stood up to Labour in the Chamber recently and told them that we don't need damaging measures like the new 'GP Tax', the 'Family Farm Tax', or the Winter Fuel Cut. These policies will hit North Cornwall hard, impacting everything from health care to agriculture. In my Budget response, I urged the Labour Government to instead reverse the Tories' huge cut to the Big Banks Tax, which would raise £4 billion per year. This could help with critical hospital building upgrades at Treliske, North Devon and Derriford hospitals – something our region desperately needs.

The £1-billion boost for special educational needs and disabilities (SEND) provision announced in the budget was a welcome one, and I'm proud of the role we played in pushing for this outcome following our SEND Summit in Bodmin. However, I'm very concerned that a large number of the government's plans will hurt the "working people" they claim to represent.

I've also been out in towns like Bodmin, Camelford and Bude recently, to hold face-to-face surgeries to connect with constituents and hear your concerns at first hand. Following the recent surgery in Bude, I spent the afternoon knocking on doors and engaging with residents directly in a doorstep surgery. It's essential to me that I remain accessible and responsive to your needs, and these visits are always invaluable. If you'd like to learn when I'll be coming to a town or village near you, and want to book a surgery appointment, please email me at ben.maguire.mp@parliament.uk. I also offer phone surgery appointments for those who might be unable to get out to one in person.

Community safety was another big topic on my agenda recently. I met with the policing inspector in Bodmin to address rising issues of anti-social behaviour and drug abuse. Ensuring our towns remain safe and welcoming for everyone is a top priority, and I'm committed to working closely with local authorities to find effective solutions.

And of course, last month marked an important moment of reflection. I laid a Remembrance Cross in the Remembrance Garden at the Palace of Westminster to honour the Cornish soldiers who gave their lives in conflict. Inscribed on the cross was the phrase Yn Kovadh (In Remembrance), complete with a small Cornish flag. It's vital that we never forget the sacrifices made by so many in our communities, and those who never returned home. I attended a service in Bodmin to lay a wreath on Sunday 10th November, and a separate service in Camelford on the 11th to pay respects.

Lastly, on a slightly lighter note, I'd like to give a huge thank you to all the children and schools who have participated in our Christmas Card competition. I am thrilled to say we received hundreds of creative and heartwarming entries from across North Cornwall. I'm looking forward to showcasing the winning designs soon!

County Council

Even though I am writing this in early November – and the weather is more like late September – our TV screens are already full of Christmas adverts, and so it does not feel too early to wish everyone a very Merry Christmas.

It is heartening to see so many villages still maintaining the tradition of Christmas lights. It is uplifting to see these community displays, so please give a thought to the hard-working committees for whom this is practically a year-round job – with planning for next year starting almost as soon as the lights come down in January.

Even though we are all fortunate to live in such strong and supportive rural communities, Christmas can be a stressful time for some with already stretched finances pushed to breaking point. Statistics from Citizens Advice for the parishes that I represent show a continued and consistent increase in demand for their services over the last few years, with benefits, debt and financial issues remaining the top issues.

However, I am pleased to see that low-income households in Cornwall will once again receive payments to help with the ongoing cost of living crisis after Cornwall Council secured £4.5 million through the Household Support Fund (HSF).

Payments of £80 per person will be made automatically to those eligible, including pensioners receiving council tax support and vulnerable adults on a low income. In a change to the way HSF funds are allocated, this latest round will see an £80 payment made to an additional 3,000 pensioners in receipt of council tax support – previously only those in receipt of pension credit received payments.

Hopefully this will be of help to some of those who were affected by the punitive decision of this new Labour government to remove the Winter Fuel Allowance as a universal benefit – a policy my party does not support. A payment of £80 per child will also be made to low-income households who claim council tax support.

In addition, Cornwall Council will use any remaining funds to work with providers such as Citizens Advice Cornwall, Age UK, Community Energy Plus, Cornwall Carers Service and Disability Cornwall to ensure other financially vulnerable residents are assisted where appropriate. Please do contact any of these services if you feel you need help.

Meanwhile, I hope that you are all able to take some time to enjoy the many carol services and community events in the run up to Christmas and, more importantly, spend time with your extended families over the holiday break. These represent the true spirit of the season.

Methodist Musings – It's Traditional!

We're fast approaching Christmas and the New Year, when many of us will celebrate with family traditions either passed down through the generations, or perhaps more recently embraced. Perhaps you're visited by the elves during Advent, who get up to all sorts of mischief, much to the delight of younger members of the family, and often to the frustration of those who are a little older as they unravel toilet paper, spill flour on the kitchen worktop, climb the Christmas tree and so on.

Then there's the tradition of putting up the tree and decorations – do you do it weeks ahead of the big day, or just a few days before? Do you still send Christmas cards, or is that a tradition that has slipped now, preferring to send texts, messages or putting a post on social media?

Then there'll be the special and treasured traditions that are unique to your family. One of ours is Christmas morning breakfast – quite a unique menu originating where we grew up in the mining villages of the East Midlands! We enjoy nothing more than tucking in to a plate of ham, ox tongue and pork pie first thing on Christmas morning, listening to carols playing and enjoying the atmosphere of the day.

Of course, for us, Christmas wouldn't be complete without our most important tradition of celebrating the birth of Jesus. Sadly, we've noticed that in the majority of retail outlets and garden centres now, there is very little evidence of Jesus at all. One or two may have a nominal ornament depicting the nativity, but mostly we're offered snowmen, reindeer, Father Christmas, penguins and other festive decorations. These are all lovely, but it does seem that, in general, Jesus has been squeezed out of Christmas and has been replaced by these winter related items.

As Christians, we believe that what we celebrate at Christmas is the wonderful act of God stepping into a broken and hurting world, bringing the message of his love and well-being for all of creation, something that is needed and longed for just as much now as it was all those years ago. But Jesus isn't just a tradition that we repeat year on year, to give us a warm fuzzy feeling, but rather Jesus is, as one child told me "God with skin on", who came to show how great God's love is for each and every one of us.

So as we celebrate with our time-honoured and well-loved traditions, perhaps we can find a space for Jesus and take a moment to reflect on the wonderful love of God that reaches out to each and every one of us – now and as we move forward into 2025.

"I have come that they may have life, and have it to the full." (John 10:10)

We wish you a greatly blessed and peace-filled Christmas and New Year.

Step into Christmas Fayre

Thank you to the organisers of the Step Into Christmas Fayre in the Hall in November. The Hall was packed all afternoon with people shopping for presents while enjoying luxury hot chocolate and delicious home baking.

There were some really excellent art and craft stalls; Lorraine and David ran their ever popular Merlin stall; and Jo really enjoyed meeting younger customers at the Pocket Money Pots stall. Karen's Temple Spa skincare, body care and home gifts stall was very popular (if you missed her there, you can contact her on karenprideaux@hotmail.com). It was a lovely festive afternoon to get us all in the mood for Christmas in St Teath, and we raised £475 to keep our Christmas lights twinkling this year.

Thank you

On a recent early morning walk down Trevilly Lane, I came across three black dustbin liners dumped on the grass verge. One had been torn open, probably by animals, and the contents strewn across the grass – uncooked sausages, an ice-cream carton, pottery and other foodstuffs. While I was wondering what to do about it, along came a lovely lady in a shining car and we managed to put the rubbish into carrier bags, which the lovely lady took away to dispose of. Thank you Justine. (To whoever left the rubbish there: shame on you.)

There are those in the village who care about the safety of the inhabitants, none more so than the village Community Speed Watch team, who monitor the traffic passing through the village in all weathers. The speeding figures printed in the Timepiece prove just how necessary this monitoring is. I believe that a huge thank you is well and truly deserved, so Tom, Steve, Chris: thank you for helping to keep St Teath safer for us all.
